Dear Colleagues in Education,

The Institute for Education Leadership (IEL) is proud to share with you its latest activities and accomplishments. In addition to launching the Strong Districts and Their Leadership section of the IEL website, the Leading Safe and Accepting Schools (LSAS) team has been working diligently at updating and adding new resources to their section of the IEL website. Two webcasts representing the four sectors of the province have been added. Specific themes have been identified within both webcasts and can be accessed individually. In each webcast you will find specific themes as listed below:

IMPLEMENTATION WEBCAST

1. Leadership for a Shared Vision
2. Establishing the Environment
3. Partnerships
4. Capacity Building

EVALUATION AND RENEWAL WEBCAST

1. Sources of Data
2. Analysis to Action
3. Reflection and Revision

The webcast videos are bilingual. The viewer can toggle the closed captioning in either language, or turn closed captioning off, by clicking the "CC" symbol at the top left of the screen.

A User Guide has been designed as a resource to accompany the IEL Leading Safe and Accepting Schools (LSAS) webcasts. The purpose of the user guide is to assist school and district Safe and Accepting School teams as they consider the best way to use the webcasts as part of the implementation of their Safe and Accepting Schools policy. The user guide is available in both French and English.

We continue to encourage you to visit www.education-leadership-ontario.ca and click on the LSAS link or the APPLIKI link to upload your resources or to make use of existing resources.

For more information please contact communication@education-leadership-ontario.ca.

Please distribute this communiqué to school and system leaders in your district. The IEL looks forward to continuing our communication with you.

Kind regards,

Norah Marsh
