

DID YOU KNOW?

The Ontario Institute for Education Leadership \(IEL\) has been created by leaders for leaders. The IEL is a forum for collaborative education networking that brings leaders from all organizations in education together with the Ministry of Education to contribute to improved student achievement, equity and well-being. This leadership work is informed by the changing needs of the education sector.

Discover a wealth of information on the IEL's website by taking a Virtual Tour.

Did you know that the Ontario Leadership Framework (OLF) is one of the IEL's most sought-after and used resources?

The IEL continues to support the implementation of the Ontario Leadership Framework (OLF) through its Leadership Development Series which features school-level leadership stories written by practicing principals. A User Guide for OLF Stories lists the leadership stories and offers advice on how to use the stories in a range of contexts.

The IEL and the Ministry are collaborating on establishing a process for updating the Ontario Leadership Framework (OLF).

The Personal Leadership Resources (PLRs)

The IEL's commitment to leadership learning and development continues to be evident in newly developed resources and professional learning opportunities. The IEL has posted "Strengthening Your Personal Leadership Resources" (PLRs) which is a series of Power Point presentations with notes to guide their use and Reflective Manuals to deepen learning. If you are interested in field-testing these resources, please contact the IEL Coordinator at communication@education-leadership-ontario.ca.
